LIMA, June 13, 1876.

On Thursday last one of the most terrible tragedies that have made conspicuous the criminal annals of Northern Ohio for the last few years took piace in Orange township, Hancock county, about three miles from Blufton, and a short distance from Ada, Hardin county. The entire community, in this region, both in Hardin and Hancock counties, have been wrought up to a pitch of excitoment never before known in their history. This tragedy was the poisoning of thirteen persons, members of the families of two brothers and a nephew, by Isaac B. Charles, a resident of Ada, and late City Treasurer of Ada, a man who has up to a short period borne an excellent reputation, and who has been regarded as a consistent member of the Methodist Church and as an honorable man and valued citizen. But developments which have been made since the tragedy of last Thursday make him out to be a flend incarnate, a devil with a heart so black and whose deeds are so damuable as to make other devils and their deeds as driven snow in his presence. isaac Thompson, of Ada appointed administrator. He found that his predecessor had not only squandered his own portion of the estate; that the taxes were unjud; but that all the assets had disappeared. All of the deeperate crookedness of Isaac's affairs then became known to his relatings and a bitter quarrel was the result.

On last Wednesday the brothers and nephew, Mr. Thomas Charles, agreed to meet at Elijah Charles' for the purpose of settling all their difficulties, and to determine Thomas' share in the estate. Elijah went ta Ada atter Isaac, on Wednesday, and on his way home stopped at a mill for a grist of flour which he took home, His wife, in anticipation of the large company on the iolitowing day, set about mixing a batch of bread to be baked on the morrow, and while so doing Isaac went in and out of the room where she was working frequently. Suddenly he declared that he had a business engagement which would take him back to Ada, and he could not possibly return until the alternoon of Thursday, and he wished Elijah and Thomas to go down there after him. Accordingly immediately after dinner on Thursday the two Starled for Ads, but had gone only a short distance when Thomas was seized with violent vomiting, and in a few minutes afterward his uncle. They supposed that they were suffering from a violent attack of coile. So severe was their pain that they drove to the roadside and then rolled around almos, in the agenies of dissolution. While in the midst of their attack a neighbor came driving along in the haste and informed them that the entire company had been seized in the same manner. They returned home and the neighbor continued on his way after a physician to Blafton. Dr. Yorder was summoned, and quickly repaired to the same manner of the supply. Thirteen persons were in various stages of diness, and so patpable were the symptoms of the maindy that the physician immediately announced that they had all been poisoned.

A physician from Ada was thee summoned, Dr. Sturgeon, and he on Saturday caused a po unfinished hats, valued at $1,500, carried off. A reward of $500 was offered for the arrest of the thieves and recovery of the property. Two days ago information was received through Adolph Bernstein, an exconvict who has served a term of ten years in the State Prison for bergiary, that the stolen hats were in the possession of his brothers-in-law Sigismand Strauss and Bernard Steugerman, at No. 236 East Broadway. The case was placed in the hands of Sergeant Bergholz, of the Washington Place Court squad, who, with Officers Fleming and Grassick, on Wednesday might proceeded to No. 236 East Broadway, and in a room on the second floor found a trunk containing the stolen property. They then proceeded to the residence of Steugerman, at No. 174 Attorney street, and arrested him. Strauss was arcested in his rooms at No. 150 Attorney street, eard arrested him. Strauss was arcested in his rooms at No. 150 Attorney street, dealer. On the prisoners being arraigned at court they were identified by Mrs. Levy, of No. 236 East Broadway, as the persons who hired from her the room in which the stolen property was found. Justice Duily held both men for trial in default of $3,600 ball. to the Central Office and instructed by Inspector Walling as to their duties at the forthcoming annual parade of the force, which takes place on the 22d inst. The ine will be formed in Lafayette place and will be composed of about 1,600 men, divided into four battalions, commanded by the four inspectors. The force will be reviewed at the Union square plaza by the Mayor and heads of departments.

A WIFE'S HARD FATE.

Shortly before seven o'clock yesterday morning Wm. Davis attempted to kill his wife, at No. 86 West Third street, by cutting her throat. A year ago Mra Davis, after suffering for months from her husband's neglect and abuse, determined to leave him and earn her ows living. She obtained a situation in a shee store is Warren street as assumstress, and by her industry carned the esteem of her employera. In the meantime Davis sought her whereabouts. Finally he found her, and then, to escape his further abuse, she moved to No. 86 West Third street. Yesterday morning at a little before seven o'clock she heard a rap at ner door, and, asking who was there, received the reply, 'I wan a match.' She did not recognize the voice and thought it was that of a woman living on the same floor. On opening the door her husband rushed in, and, seizing her by the throat, threw her on the bed. She struggled and screamed for help, but he tightened his hold. Then he drew a pocket knite and slashed it across her throat, cutting a gash four inches long but not severing the jugular vein. The noise aroused the inmates of the house, to escape whom Davis fled into the yard, and thence, by earling the fences, effected his oscape.

The police arriving, a physician was called and the wounded woman received from her hasband in the past makes her appear several years older.

The police are looking for Davis. He is a carriege maker by trade. Shortly before seven o'clock yesterday morning Wm.

name as an indorsement. This became known in the course of time to the holder of a note for $1,500 and he, it is supposed, informed the father of his son's rescality. At any rate, the two had a meeting, and a stormy scene ensued; and the forged note was replaced with one bearing a genuine signature.

Shortly after, about the time that the other forged notes were supposed to be approaching maturity, one night a shot was fired into the window of the old man's house, by some one evidently intent on killing him, and he escaped death by the narrowest chance. The occurrence was a nine days' wonder, as the old man hadn't an enemy in the world, it was supposed. It is now asserted that on that day Issae procured a revolver at a hardware store in Ada, saying that he was going on a journey and would need such an instrument. That night he was absent from home, and the next day he returned the weapon, declaring that he had changed his mind.

About this time Isaac again visited his father to talk over the affair of the note, and they repaired to a hara together. Shortly after he returned and reported that his tather had been killed by a horse.

The old gentleman was found jying in the barn senseless, with an agly wound in the back of his head, he lived a few days, but never recovered sufficient consciousness to tell how he was burt. Strange to say, the oldshady was taken suddenly and violently ill, with grief, it was said, and she rapidly declined and died, and was buried with her husband. These events excited no comments at the time, Isaac's story of the death of his aged parents being accredited as true by his brothers and the community at large.

But a more startling episode was yet in store for this terribly fated family. Isaac had in his household syoung girl, some sixteen or seventeen years old, and of sudden she was sent away to Columbus. For what reason does not appear; but it is now said in order that an abortion might be performed.

During her absence Isaac's wife and a child were suddenly taken ill, and after a ve

George Savill, better known as "Sheffield George," the English dog trainer and fighter, was arrested yesterday morning on a bench warrant issued at the instance of Mr. Bergh, charging him with having participated in a dog fight at Morrisania Park, four months ago. He was locked up in ceil 126 in the Tombs, where a Herralt reporter called on him. When asked the cuse of his arrest Mr. Sayill said, "Bless me 'art, my boy, hi don' know. This ere man Bergh's a bleeding duffer." In former days Mr. Savill was the constant companion of the late Kit Burns, Edward O'Day, Harry and John Jennings, Charley Monell, Dick Toner alias "Dick, the Rat," Soldier Brown and all the dog fighters and pugilists who frequented Kit Burns' place, in Water street, known as "The Bandoox."
